the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer et al. 1998). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer et al. 1998).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The United Kingdom has a number of government departments and agencies that are responsible for the provision of mental health services. The Department of Health is responsible for the overall policy and funding of mental health services. The Department of Social Security is responsible for the provision of social security benefits to people with mental health problems. The Department of the Environment is responsible for the provision of housing and other social services to people with mental health problems.

The National Health Service (NHS) is responsible for the provision of mental health services. The NHS is a public body that is funded by the government. The NHS is responsible for the provision of a wide range of mental health services, including community mental health teams, inpatient services, and specialist services.

The Mental Health Act 1983 is the primary legislation governing the provision of mental health services in the United Kingdom. The Act sets out the powers of the courts and the powers of the Secretary of State. The Act also sets out the rights of people with mental health problems.

The Mental Health Act 1983 has been amended a number of times. The most recent amendments were made by the Mental Health Act 2003. The 2003 Act introduced a number of changes to the 1983 Act, including the introduction of a new system of compulsory treatment orders (CTOs).

The CTOs are a new type of order that allows the courts to require a person with a mental health problem to receive treatment. The CTOs are designed to protect the public and to ensure that people with mental health problems receive the treatment they need.

The CTOs are a controversial issue. Some people believe that the CTOs are a necessary and effective way of ensuring that people with mental health problems receive the treatment they need. Others believe that the CTOs are a violation of the rights of people with mental health problems.

The purpose of this paper is to review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs. The paper will first review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in reducing the risk of violence. The paper will then review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in ensuring that people with mental health problems receive the treatment they need.

The paper will also review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in protecting the rights of people with mental health problems. The paper will conclude by discussing the implications of the findings for the provision of mental health services in the United Kingdom.

The paper is organized as follows. The first section will review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in reducing the risk of violence. The second section will review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in ensuring that people with mental health problems receive the treatment they need. The third section will review the evidence on the effectiveness of the CTOs in protecting the rights of people with mental health problems.

The fourth section will discuss the implications of the findings for the provision of mental health services in the United Kingdom. The paper will conclude by discussing the implications of the findings for the provision of mental health services in the United Kingdom.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems in the UK is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a strategy for mental health care, which aims to improve the lives of people with mental health problems and to reduce the burden of mental illness on society. The strategy is based on three main principles: prevention, early intervention and recovery.

Prevention aims to reduce the risk of people developing a mental health problem. This can be achieved through a range of measures, including education, training and support. Early intervention aims to identify and treat mental health problems as early as possible. This can help to prevent the problem from becoming more serious and can improve the chances of recovery. Recovery aims to help people with mental health problems to live full and meaningful lives.

The strategy also sets out a range of targets for the mental health services. These include: reducing the number of people with a mental health problem who are admitted to hospital; increasing the number of people who are treated in the community; and increasing the number of people who are employed or engaged in education or training. The strategy also sets out a range of measures to improve the quality of mental health services, including: increasing the number of mental health professionals; improving the training and skills of mental health professionals; and increasing the involvement of people with mental health problems in the development and delivery of services.

The strategy is a landmark document for mental health care in the UK. It sets out a clear vision for the future of mental health care and provides a framework for the development and delivery of mental health services. The strategy is based on the principle that people with mental health problems should be treated as individuals and that their needs should be met. The strategy also sets out a range of measures to improve the quality of mental health services, including: increasing the number of mental health professionals; improving the training and skills of mental health professionals; and increasing the involvement of people with mental health problems in the development and delivery of services.

Dedication....

To Mr. S. B. Llewellyn we, the graduates of the class of 1941, sincerely dedicate this, our Keen Keener, in deep appreciation for thirty-five years of teaching service. Of this, twenty-five years were spent in this school. He has influenced many of the pupils who have gone to this school by his kind advice and excellent teaching. He has been a dependable, cooperative teacher and a good citizen of this community. We especially thank Mr. Llewellyn for his friendly and helpful advice to this year's graduating class.

OUR SCHOOL

The Class of 1941 is the fifth class to graduate from Deviotte High School since the new addition. The new addition consists of a gymnasium, four class rooms and an assembly. It is built on the west end of the old school house and is fireproof. The yard in front of the school house has been converted from a barren lot to a grassy lawn. It does very much to improve the looks of the school.

During the summer of 1940 a new Athletic Field was started. It consisted of a softball field, a six man football field, a tennis court and a quarter mile track. The softball field and six man football field, which are combined, were finished. The lights which light the field were purchased from Remington. A backstop and a fence which runs along the first and third base line of the softball field were also purchased. The track and the tennis court are about half completed.

We, the graduating class of 1941, wish to express our sincere appreciation for having such a fine school from which to graduate.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1937, twenty-three boys and girls, all very anxious to become wonderful scholars, enrolled in the DeMotte High School. We were all very "green" and very anxious to please our teachers.

During our first year we chose Mr. Boron as our sponsor. We elected the following class officers: Cornelius Sweringa, President; Kenneth Zeck, Vice President; Chris Walstra, Secretary; and Jack Evans, Treasurer. We chose scarlet and silver for our class colors, and our motto was "Success Comes in Cans, Not in Can'ts."

A few weeks later we were initiated into the High School. Shortly afterward, on October 8, we had our first party. On December 11, we entertained the rest of the high school with a short Indiana Day program. We gave the senior class a party on February 5th, and on April 22nd, we visited the Cane Preserve near Medaryville.

The next fall twenty-one members returned. We also had with us a new member, Jean Barry. We were aided through this year by our new sponsor, Mrs. Bernard. Other officers elected were: Jack Evans, President; Chris Walstra, Vice President; Shirley Stroup, Secretary; and Kenneth Zeck, Treasurer. We kept our same colors and motto.

Our first party of the year was held on October 5th, and the second one on January 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Bernard. The second week of October we visited the Field Museum in Chicago.

This year we presented the Thanksgiving Day program. Soon afterward, about the first week of January, we ordered our letters bearing our class numbers, "41". On April 28th, we gave a one act comedy play entitled "Ding Dong Dumbbells".

In the fall of 1939, only eighteen members returned; the others thinking they knew a little more than our teachers did. Robert Recker was chosen President; Kenneth Zeck, Vice President; Margaret Bahler, Secretary; and Chris Walstra, Treasurer. We kept the same colors and motto we had had for the two previous years. Mr. Jarrett became our sponsor.

Our Junior play, "Three Days of Grace", was successfully given on December 12th.

Towards spring, we received our class rings. You should have seen the proud looks on the faces of the Juniors.

In April we financed a trip for the Seniors to Chicago, where we visited several points of interest.

When we returned to school last fall, we had again lost one of our members, Charlie White.

This year we chose the following officers: Chris Walstra, President; Kenneth Zeck, Vice President; Margaret Bahler, Secretary; and Jack Evans, Treasurer. Mr. Ruch was selected as our sponsor. We have kept the same class colors, but have adopted a new motto, "Mind Not the Breakers; but Straight Ahead".

We will present our Senior play, "Bolts and Nuts" in the near future.

We are planning to publish the sixth edition of the Keen Keener.

We have now reached the end of our schooling in the DeMotte High School, and as we separate to go out into the world to earn our own living, may we all heartily wish one another the most success and happiness for the future years.

SENIORS OPINIONS OF TEACHERS

Mr. Ewart - Too interested in civics. Always has an ear for anyone in trouble. Has many friends I'm sure.

Mr. Llewellyn - Really knows his English. Is a good English teacher and a great friend. Always willing to help you. You "Juniors" will miss him next year.

Mr. Ely - Likes his Chemistry experiments. Famous saying: Theoretically, yes--Actually, no. Always ready with advice. Doesn't know any shrubs but "Red Bud".

Miss Slocum - I fool her when she thinks I'm not paying attention. Usually has a smile. Has patience of Job. Hides her own gifts and doesn't know it.

Miss Keever - Tries to drown the choruses with music but she certainly is nice. "How many minutes before the bell?" Likes to get in the way of cars when bicycle riding.

Mr. Ruch - Fine fellow after we win a game (He always is swell). He has a good line at the half. Means what he says. He has a 38 Chevrolet that he boasts about but confidentially it is a wreck.

CLASS PROPHECY

Well, here we are in the year 1951, just ten years since I left "Ole DeMotte". Many things have happened during the past decade—such things as Casey Sweiringa and Shirley Stroup exchanging "I do's", and Chris Walstra being sent to South America as a civil engineer.

Yesterday I met Gertrude Mak at the premier of Peggy Bahlers latest picture. Gertrude is the star girl reporter of Chicago's largest newspaper now. Her husband, Gerald Knip, is teaching dramatics in San Francisco. After the premiere there was a banquet at the Stevens Hotel and imagine my surprise when the hotel doorman turned out to be Kenny Zeck. From basketball star to doorman. As we entered I saw many familiar faces, one of them being Genevieve Kooy's, who happens to be the hat-check girl. Was she giving those men the eye! The entertainment was lovely. Bill Orsburn's orchestra was playing and the great torch singer Grayce Terpstra thrilled the men with her songs. Rumors have said that Grayce and Bill are engaged. I hope they have twins as Shirley and Casey did. We had a wonderful time at the banquet and this morning I went to church and heard Rev. Robert Recker preach. When I reached home and picked up the morning paper, there on the front page was a picture of that famous dancing team, Jennie Nannenga and Wayne Oliver. They are touring the country with Charlie Ruch and his wife, Beulah, as managers.

This afternoon I went to a musical comedy and the cashier was none other than Anna Boezeman. She still knows how to flirt with the boys, too. While we were waiting for the show to begin I heard two men talking behind me. I couldn't help but hear their conversation. I learned that Virgil is preparing for a place in the United States Senate and Jack is a Hollywood director who is going to the top fast.

During these last two days I've seen all of my former classmates and they seem to be doing fine. I'll have to say goodbye now and get some sleep for tomorrow I must rehearse my flying trapeze act.

—JEAN BARRY

THE CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1941, being of sound mind and body, do make and publish this, our last Will and Testament.

To Mr. Ewart—A senior class that cannot get him off the subject of civics as easily as we have.

To Mr. Llewellyn—A big, hearty "THANK YOU" for his years of teaching us.

To Miss Slocum—A general math. class that will make perfect grades in every test.

To Miss Wakeman—Our deep appreciation for her friendly smile and friendly ways.

To Miss Koeever—More orderly band practices.

To Mr. Ely—A chemistry class that will come to class with their lessons prepared.

And to our sponsor, Mr. Ruch—A new car, as his Chevy looks rather ancient.

1. Peg Bahler wills all the gum she has plastered on seats in the school building to Jean Hoffman and Anne Kleinblossom. Next year you won't have to bring any more gum to school, Richard.
2. Virgil Barker wills his politeness to Georgia Durant and Goldie DeKoker. Here's hoping they use it.
3. Jean Barry gives the piano in the gym to Herbert Hook. Don't break it while you are trying to learn, Herb.
4. Anna Boezeman gives all her boy friends but one to Edith Tysen and Eileen Bailey; take your pick girls.
5. Jack Evans gladly gives his so-called car to Johnnie Van Kley. We decided in book-keeping class that it was more of a liability than an asset.
6. Gerald Knip wills his appetite for "Oysters" to Martha Pruis and Marcella Schwanke. Take the "bitter with the better". You may find a pearl.

7. Genevieve Kooy bequeaths her straight 'A' report card to Jeanette Vander Ploeg and Esther Ruisard. Share and share alike.
8. Gertrude Mak wills to Gertrude Dykstra and Frances Walstra the great unknown. In other words—Yehute. Better find out who he is for yourself.
9. Jennie Nannenga wills all she knows to Inez DeFries and Lucille Hudnall: Sorry, girls, but you're not getting much.
10. Wayne Oliver leaves his smart remarks and wise cracks to his brother, Maurice Oliver. May class discussions be very interesting next year.
11. William Orsburn gives his study periods to Kenneth DeFries. Here's hoping he won't make use of them as Bill has—sleeping.
12. Robert Recker leaves to Marvin Bernard all the good arguments that he's put up in favor of Willkie. Let's hope your candidate does win the next election, Marvin.
13. Shirley Stroun gives her intimate friendship with Lucille to Fred Zeck. Who knows, maybe it may be more than an intimate friendship some day?
14. Cornelius Swieringa wills his freckles to Charlotte Barker, Mary Lou Cheever, and Elizabeth Woudema. I think there will be enough to go around.
15. Gayco Terpstra gives her title of "Miss" to Tillie DeKoker. Some senior boy will gladly give her the title of "Mrs." some day.
16. Chris Walstra gives his good looking girls in other towns to Malcolm Boezeman and Arthur Schoonveld. Get them, boys (while the gettin's good). Oh, I forgot about Lois and Delia.
17. Kenneth Zeck wills his ability to catch on to a joke ten minutes later to Richard Osting; or is Richard called "afterbeat", now?

Signed and sealed in this year of 1941.

SENIOR CLASS POFM

BY GENEVIEVE KOOY

Stop, look, and listen; here they come—
The Senior class of forty-one,
As you meet them, you're sure to say,
"Now there's a class that is okay".

Mr. Ruch, our sponsor this year,
Has aided us our bark to steer.
And, as into the world we start,
Unhappily we from him part.

Peggy Bahler is first in line.
As a cheer leader, she is fine.
Secretary of class and club,
She really is not one to snub.

Virgil Barker, the cheerful lad,—
When do you see him looking sad?—
Always smiles from morn till night.
We must agree that he's all right.

Next is a girl who likes to tease.
Jean Barry by name, if you please,
Plays the piano very well,
And of Roosevelt likes to tell.

Anna Boezeman is short and fair,
With bright blue eyes and golden hair.
She often has a new hair-do,
And is a lovely singer, too.

Athletic star on DeMotte's side
Is Jack Evans, dark-haired, brown eyed.
Though he's gay as any of you,
We're sure he misses one named Sue.

Gerald Knip seems rather shy
Until you know him by and by
Who is his girl friend? Don't ask me.
There're quite a few, as you can see.

I was assigned this poem to write,
And fear my hair is turning white.
For by now you prob'ly know it,
That I surely am no poet.

You hear a giggle from our class?
It must be this sunny-haired lass.
Gertrude Mak,—you'll find is her name.
And to be a nurse is her aim.

Chubby, jolly, and musical,
Jennie Nannenga is them all.
If you are looking for a friend,
She is one we can recommend.

Big and husky Wayne Oliver
Seems to have a fun-loving lure.
In both Junior and Senior plays
He had many comical says.

Bill Orsburn is somewhat chunky,
But that's no sign he isn't spunky.
Of a Freshman girl he is fond.
Can it be that she is a blond?

Robert Recker used to be small,
But now he has become quite tall.
An argumentive lad is he,
But in his eye a twinkle see.

Now here is Shirley Stroup and she
A Latin teacher plans to be.
Although lessons cause some to frown,
They cannot seem to get her down.

Next a very talented boy,—
Reporting seems to be his joy.
Casey Swieringa is his name;
Who knows? Some day he may win fame.

Guyce Terpstra, tallest of the girls,
Has big gray eyes and dark brown curls.
A pleasant classmate she has been,
And one we hope to meet again.

Chris Walstra, our tall president,
For some great place is surely meant.
Sometimes he is quite serious,
And then again mischevious.

Kenneth Zeck, another athlete,
Is one whom it is hard to beat.
Friendliness is one of his traits,
So he's well-liked by his schoolmates.

And now we must bid you "goodbye,"
Although it almost makes us cry.
For here at school where we were sent,
A host of happy days we've spent.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

We started our high school career as freshmen with thirty-two members. Our class officers were as follows: president, Fred Zeck; vice president, Eileen Bailey; secretary, Lucille Hudnall; treasurer, John Van Kley. Mr. Ewart was chosen as our sponsor.

We were duly initiated by the seniors. We had a class party in November and another in the spring.

After a four-month vacation, we became sophomores. This time we had thirty-three members. Our officers were: president, Arthur Schoonveld; vice president, Warren Cornell; secretary, Betty Cornell; treasurer, Sue Cox. This year Mrs. Bernard was our sponsor.

In the early fall we had a skating party at Hebron.

We are now juniors with twenty-seven members. Our officers are: president, Malcolm Boezeman; vice president, Fred Zeck; secretary, Lucille Hudnall; treasurer, Herbert Hook. Miss Wakeman is our class sponsor this year.

So far this year we have had two skating parties at Lowell.

On December 3, 1940, we presented a three-act comedy, "Wild Oats Boy". With the proceeds from this play we plan to give the seniors a trip in the spring.

Our class colors are blue and silver. Our motto is "Sailing On the Sea of Victory—May We Succeed".

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Twenty-two members enrolled in the Sophomore class this year. The purpose of the first class meeting was to choose our sponsor and elect class officers. We chose Miss Kever to be our sponsor and our officers are as follows: President, William Hoffman; Vice President, Dale Schwank; Secretary, Alice Sytsma; Treasurer, Ruth Moolenaar.

Our class colors are "Old Rose and Silver" and our motto is "We build the ladder by which we rise."

In October we invited the junior class to join us in a skating party. Regardless of falls, everyone had a good time.

FRESHMEN CLASS HISTORY

We entered high school with thirty-four pupils, the largest freshman class in DeMotte history. Five of our number are from Lincoln Township. We elected Alice Hamstra as our president; Sigmund Breckman, vice president; Mary Jane White, secretary; and James Bahlert, treasurer. Miss Slocum was selected as our sponsor.

On September 24 we made our formal debut at the initiation given to us by the seniors. We enjoyed a skating party on October 11—many sniffs and thrills, of course. We are looking forward to more parties in the spring.

We have chosen blue and gold as our class colors. As our motto we selected: "Climb, though the rocks be rugged."

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1 million (Office for National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's health and care. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently and actively in the community.
- Older people should be able to access the services and support they need.
- Older people should be able to participate in decisions about their care and support.
- Older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including:

- To improve the health and well-being of older people.
- To ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need.
- To ensure that older people are able to participate in decisions about their care and support.
- To ensure that older people live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK. It provides a framework for the development of policies and services for older people.

ACTIVITIES

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, consisting of thirty-nine members, meets on Friday of each week. The first semester the girls sang "Hallelujah Chorus", "Viking Song", "Come to the Fair", "Morris Dance", "Song of the Danube", Christmas songs, and selections from the "Collection of Choral Music" by Flammar.

This semester we are working on the following songs: "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life", "Shortnin' Bread", "Come to the Fair", "Gypsy Love Song", "Blind Ploughman", and "Trees".

The Jasper County Music Festival was held December 12 at DeMotte.

Our Glee Club leader is Miss Keever.

BAND

The DeMotte High School Band consists of 34 members.

They will enter the district contest to be held at Hebron, April 19. The numbers they will play are Crusaders (required), Trapelo (selected), and a warm up number.

The band has played at several basket-ball games and has seemed to enlighten the spirit of the games very much.

In addition to the High School Band there is also a grade band of 16 members. Four of these will enter the High School Band soon and play with them in the contests. The other members will enter next fall.

Two of the new marches that the band is playing are "National Emblem" and "March Militaire".

The "Band Boosters Club" has helped the band a great deal by buying instruments and uniforms for it. They raised money for these things by sponsoring a "Blanket Club" and a carnival which was held last fall.

BOYS GLEE CLUB

There are fifteen boys in chorus this year, the smallest we have had for a long time. We have been working on some new songs under the capable direction of Miss Keever. We have only two parts this year, namely bass and tenor, instead of our usual three parts, bass, first tenor, and second tenor. We haven't made any public appearances yet, but we hope to in the near future. We hope that next year we will have more boys come out to chorus. There were many boys who should have come out this year, but due to other more important studies were unable to.

ANNUAL STAFF

This year the annual staff is made entirely of seniors. In the past years it has been made of representatives of all the classes of high school. This is the sixth volume to be published by DeMotte High School, the first being published in 1935.

There are fifteen departments in the staff. Editor-in-chief and Assistant Editor-in-Chief are held by Jack Evans and Robert Recker, respectively. The Business Manager is Kenneth Zeck and his two assistants are Casey Swieringa and Bill Orsburn. Wayne Oliver is the Jokes Editor and Gerald Knip is his assistant. The Snapshot Editor is Anna Boezeman with Peg Bahler as assistant. Class Will by Gertrude Mak, Class Prophecy and Class Poem by Jean Barry and Genevieve Kooy. The Class Calendar is by Shirley Stroup and the Class History is by Jennie Nannenga and Grayce Terprsta.

MIXED CHORUS

The Mixed Chorus is composed of 40 members. These people were selected by Miss Keever at the beginning of the school year after much voice testing. It is a group of both boys and girls voices from the freshman class on through the Senior year. The Chorus sang at the Music Festival and is scheduled to sing again in the spring.

Among the selections that the group has sung are the Hallelujah Chorus, Come to the Fair, Morris Dance, I Dream of Jeannie, and many others. The Chorus is under the direction of Miss M. J. Keever.

SCHOOL PAPER STAFF

The Keen Keener (school paper) has been published by the high school for the first time. It was a mimeographed paper instead of a printed paper as in previous years. There were twelve issues during the school year. The paper was edited and published by the students of DeMotte High School, and financed by the merchants' advertising.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Act 1983, 1990).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1994) has set out a vision of a new mental health service, one that is more effective, more efficient, more humane and more cost-effective. The vision is based on the following principles: (1) people with mental health problems should be treated as individuals; (2) people with mental health problems should be treated as citizens; (3) people with mental health problems should be treated as partners; (4) people with mental health problems should be treated as equals; (5) people with mental health problems should be treated as people.

BASKETBALL

Our first team this season was composed of several experienced men remaining from last season, while the second team was made up mostly of freshmen. The first team was very successful this year in winning the Kankakee Valley Tournament held at Fair Oaks by defeating San Pierre in the finals. The promises of a good squad next year are very favorable.

TROPHIES

On the following page you see four trophies which represent the accomplishments of our athletes in two different fields of competition. The first trophy on the left represents the work of the Second team last year. This trophy was won by defeating Tefft in the finals held at DeMotte.

The next trophy represents the first team accomplishments in the K. V. T. held at Fair Oaks. The boys defeated San Pierre in the finals by an overwhelming majority.

The third trophy represents last year's track team. This trophy represents the work of Charles Moolenaar and other track notables of former years.

Now we come to the last one on the far right, which was won by our second team in 1939 at Wheatfield.

YELL LEADERS

The High School yell leaders, Peggy Bahler, Jean Hoffman, and Genevieve Wright, were elected in October by the student body. These girls, through their enthusiastic efforts have done well in leading the cheering section at the basketball games.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1998 (Department of Health 1999). The number of people employed in the health service has increased by 1.2 million, from 1.8 million in 1980 to 3 million in 1998.

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the quality of health care and to ensure that the health service is cost-effective. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of the Health Service Act 1990, the Health Service Act 1997, and the Health Service Act 1998. These acts have led to a number of changes in the way the health service is organized and managed. One of the key changes has been the introduction of the Health Service Act 1990, which has led to the creation of the Health Service Commission, the Health Service Board, and the Health Service Trust. These bodies are responsible for the management and operation of the health service, and they are required to ensure that the health service is cost-effective and that it provides a high quality of care.

Another key change has been the introduction of the Health Service Act 1997, which has led to the creation of the Health Service Act 1997, the Health Service Act 1998, and the Health Service Act 1999. These acts have led to a number of changes in the way the health service is organized and managed. One of the key changes has been the introduction of the Health Service Act 1997, which has led to the creation of the Health Service Commission, the Health Service Board, and the Health Service Trust. These bodies are responsible for the management and operation of the health service, and they are required to ensure that the health service is cost-effective and that it provides a high quality of care.

Another key change has been the introduction of the Health Service Act 1998, which has led to the creation of the Health Service Act 1998, the Health Service Act 1999, and the Health Service Act 2000. These acts have led to a number of changes in the way the health service is organized and managed. ## MISCELLANEOUS

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Act 1983, 1990).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision of a new mental health system, which will be based on the following principles:

- People with mental health problems should be able to live their lives in the community, rather than in hospital.
- People with mental health problems should be able to live their lives in the way that they choose.
- People with mental health problems should be able to live their lives in the way that they choose.
